ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL HELD FIRST COMMENCEMENT.

HAD A FINE PROGRAM

Margaret Heffern, Mary Tobin, Mary Cain and Veronica O'Grady Finished Teachers' Course.

The commencement exercises of St. Patrick's parish school were held Friday afternoon in the church hall, and were largely attended by patrons and friends of the school and the graduating class.

The hall was handsomely decorated in the class colors, lavender and gold, and white carnations, the white carnation being the class flower, while the class motto from Shakespeare attracted the attention of all. It was "Be just and fear not; let all the ends thou aimest at be thy country's, thy God's, and Truth's."

The program was instructive as well as entertaining, and each one on the program acquitted himself very creditably.

At the close Rev. Fr. Niemann, pastor of the church, presented the diplomas to those graduating from the various courses and presented medals to those who distinguished themselves in other ways. They were as follows:

ARE ASKED TO CLEAN UP.

Merchants Requested to Gather Dirt and Refuse Together—City Wagons Will Do the Rest.

The merchants have been asked to sweep the streets in front of their stores, also the alleys, Monday and pile the dirt next to the curbing. It will then be hauled away Monday night by the city's wagons. For those merchants who have not the time to do the sweeping themselves the Commercial club has arranged to have a number of boys who will do this for them at a reasonable price. The boys will be at the Commercial club rooms all day Monday, and a phone call is all that is necessary to get them.

Arkoe Boy Goes to City to Find His Father, Who Worked There—Will Be Sent Back.

This morning's St. Joseph Gazette contained the following story:

"With but a little more than a dollar in his pocket, little Paul Bengsten, 12 years old, came from Arkoe, Mo., Tuesday in search of his father, whose name is Charles Bengsten, according to the boy. That afternoon he found him at work in the Rock Island shops, but lost him again that evening. He looked in vain for him Wednesday but was unable to locate him. The man was not at the shops, the boy said.

County Court Accompanied Highway Commission to Meet Court From Atchison County.

John H. Clary, E. H. Bainum and S. H. Conlin, the members of the Nodaway county highway commission, went to Darlington Wednesday to meet with the commissioners from Worth and Gentry counties for the purpose of selecting the routes between Maryville, Grant City and Albany. They failed to reach an agreement with the Gentry county commissioners in regard to the road from Albany to Maryville, and the Worth county men were not present at the meeting.

Chris Butcher positively refused to let the firemen throw water into his tailoring shop Friday afternoon, in spite of the fact that the company had had a call to that place—as they thought. When they were finally convinced that the shop was not on fire they climbed back on the wagon and made another run south to the shop of H. J. Becker, where the fire really was.

The fire in the Becker shop started about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon from a gasoline stove, which was being filled by Clarence Warren. The stove was in a back hall and separated from the other rooms of the establishment. As soon as the fire started Mr. Becker tried to smother it with an old coat, but it had gained too much headway. Mr. Becker then shut the hall doors, turned in the alarm and began to carry the suits out of the building. He saved everything, even from damage by smoke.

When the fire company arrived the blaze was soon put out. W. C. Frank, the owner of the building, said that the damage to the building amounted to about $150, which is covered by insurance. More damage was done by water than by the fire.

PLEASE KEEP QUIET.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Sunday.

TAKE NOTICE

Monday June the 16th, 1913, has been set apart as CLEAN-UP day for the welfare of the city, not only because we are going to dedicate our white way, and our splendid lighting system on the 18th, but because we want to be clean, and wish to give every one a chance to exercise their civic pride.

All trash must be piled on the street in front of the property by noon of that day, so the teamsters can readily gather it up. Remember, if you leave this trash in your alley, it will not be hauled away by the teamster under this order.

I want to suggest to all who have not cut the weeds and grass around and in front of their premises to do so at once and let this be sufficient notice.

Outside of a few ragged places our city has the appearance of a nice clean wholesome abode.

Let every one take a part in beautifying our city. I would ask all business men to clean their alleys and pile the dirt and trash up in piles in the alleys so it can be hauled away Monday.

This work is largely under the direction of the Woman's Federation of clubs.

POLITICAL NOTES.

(From the Democratic Press Bureau.)

Here are two points in favor of the great system of dragged roads Missouri will have before the last of the year. The first is that the entire bill will be footed by owners of automobiles from whom the state collects an annual license fee. The second is that counties will be relieved of the cost of maintaining these roads. The money thus saved can be applied on roads in other districts. The state's system will connect every county seat in Missouri and will amount to something like seven thousand miles. Another evidence that the Democratic party is always on the job when it comes to doing the right thing at the right time.

Another Democratic prosperity note. Railroad shops at Sedalia are running on longer hours. The change was made last week. It was made because the railroad business was getting better and bigger all the time. When the railroad business improves it is a sign people are buying more machinery, more vehicles, more implements, more clothing, shoes and other things that have to be transported from manufacturer to consumer. The people are buying more of these things because they are able to have them. They are able to have them because they are prospering. They are prospering because trade conditions are good, because prices are good and because of the universal confidence in President Wilson and the Democratic congress. The few Republicans who still yawn about a panic are getting no attention because people generally are too busy to give them a hearing.

Another great political problem is confronting the rank and file of the Progressive party. Their leaders in congress have all gone back to the Republican fold and are now in charge of the fight that is being made against a revision of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, the passage of which gave birth to the party. Will new leaders come to the front and hold the new party together or will it be swallowed up by the reactionaries who robbed Mr. Roosevelt of a nomination he had honestly won? Will the rank and file follow their old leaders back into the trust fattened camp or will it stand by the Democrats who now are fighting single-handed in congress for equal rights to all and special privileges to none? Will those who left the reactionary Republican camp because forced out by genuine principle be betrayed into the hands of the enemy by leaders they once trusted or will they encourage the Democrats by coming to their aid at this critical time in their country's history? It is another case of "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." The average Progressive should decide the question, and no doubt most of them will, by joining the Democrats in their war against predatory wealth and unjust combines. To go back into the Republican fold is to repudiate every principle the Progressives have proclaimed since their revolt against trust domination under the Taft regime.

Talked of "The Graduation Gown."

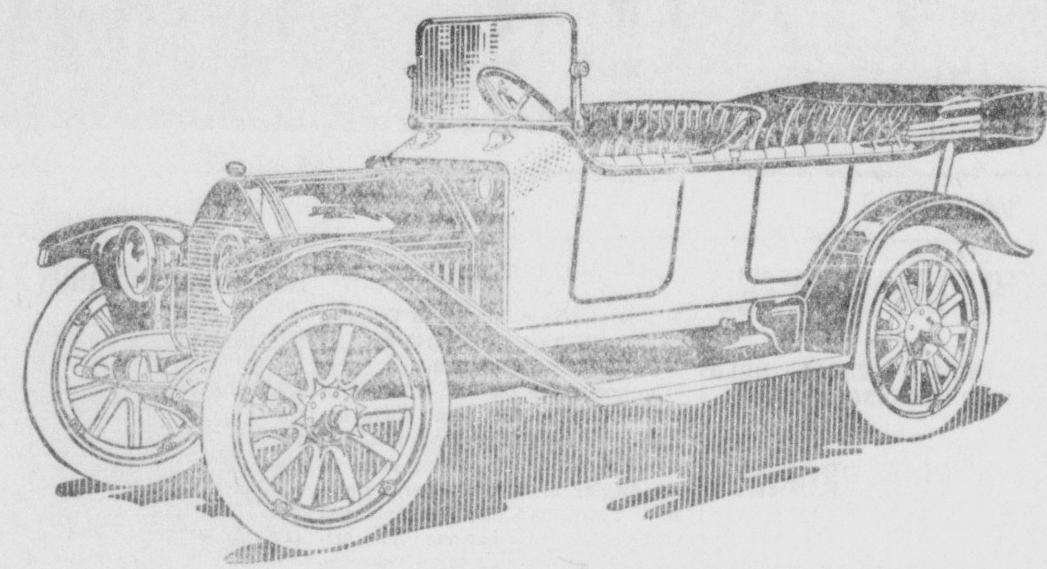

The Mothers' Circle met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Omer Catterson. In answer to roll call "My Idea of a Graduation Gown." All present had very decided views upon the subject. Some favoring the cap and gown, others the simple girlish dress so becoming to the "sweet girl graduate." But how to keep the dress inexpensive and simple in style, and how to regulate the expenses of the high school and conservatory graduates, both boys and girls, these were perplexing questions. Many valuable suggestions were brought out in the round table discussion led by Mrs. Leslie Dean. In the absence of Mrs. S. E. Farmer her topic, "The Excitement and Expense of High School Graduation" was combined with that of the round table, "Should the School Board Have Authority to Regulate the Expense of the Junior and Senior Classes?"

CARTERCAR

One of the Wonderful Features of the Cartercar is in the GEARLESS TRANSMISSION. Compare the Two Transmissions, it will Show You the Superiority of the Cartercar.

The Practical Car

Let's look at the CARTERCAR from a purely practical standpoint. First, it offers you advantages which are not to be found in other cars.

The CARTERCAR is adapted for city driving because you can change the speeds conveniently, stop and start more conveniently and with less wear on the parts of the car, and features which mean greater satisfaction in city driving will mean the same thing in the country.

In fact, the reliability of the CARTERCAR is more valuable to the farmer than to anyone else. He has no garages "just 'round the corner" and does most of his driving in the open, where road troubles would greatly inconvenience him.

The Friction Transmission is one of the strongest features of the CARTERCAR, and you yourself know very well that the ordinary gear transmission is little more than a joke, and it's not a very funny joke, either, to the man who has trouble with one.

This unlimited number of speeds, lack of waste power and great simplicity are CARTERCAR features which mean that you get better than the ordinary service, that your car is more reliable, far more dependable.

The CARTERCAR is the practical, serviceable car just half way between the cheap and high priced cars. Every dollar invested in a CARTERCAR will bring you full value in return.

The driver of the famous "Twentieth Century Limited" and four of the fastest Rock Island drivers are among the many engineer owners of the CARTERCAR.

Cartercar Friction Drive.

The Cartercar Friction Transmission with chain-in-oil drive is not subject to the many griefs and ills of the ordinary gear transmission. It eliminates clutch, universal joints and bevel gear drive. There are just two principal working units. The extreme simplicity carries with it great economy. The Cartercar glides away like an aeroplane, without a sound or jar.

Sliding Gear Transmission.

The old fashioned sliding gear transmission is extravagant in construction, expensive in maintenance and untrustworthy in performance. It limits its user generally to three forward speeds, costs as much for lubrication, with the necessary clutch and universal joints, as the entire upkeep of the Cartercar Friction Drive, and is much more noisy.

new members were added—Mrs. Arthur S. Robey, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Mrs. F. P. Reuland.

Mayor A. S. Robey was present and addressed the club and assured the women that he would co-operate with them in all they undertook to do for civic improvement. There is a general feeling of happiness and confidence over the spirit of co-operation in the interest of a clean city that is being manifested in word and action by our people from the mayor down. Every body is getting ready to do their part on clean-up day, Monday, June 16.

That Trip Around the World.

The trip around the world last night conducted by the Wesleyan class of the Main Street Methodist church, was a regular Cook's tour without the Boecklers. Four countries were visited, Ireland, Holland, Japan and the United States. Starting in automobiles from Wesleyan harbor at the church, the tourists were whisked from one country to another, making the entire trip in faster time than Jules Verne could have wished. The attendants at each country were costumed in native dress, and the refreshments consisted of typical native dishes.

Ireland, at the home of Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, was the first stop. There the tourists were met and served refreshments by Misses Ada Clayton, Emma Crandall, Ethel Muse and Mrs. Charles Moore.

Holland was the next country on the route, and the tourists were landed at the home of O. C. Hanna. Misses Hildred Hannan, Dale Hoffman, Ola and Orta King served at that place.

From Holland the trip to Japan was made. Japan was at the home of Miss Glen Hotchkiss. The hostesses at that stop were Misses Glen Hotchkiss, Alice Fraser, Ruth Matter, Edna Waiter and Marie Wells.

The tourists then turned toward their native land, the whole United States being for the evening located in the home of John W. Airy. At the front steps they were met by Uncle Sam and the Goddess of Liberty, Ernest Moore and Mattie Clayton representing those characters. In the house a reception was given by President Wilson and his family. The president was Forrest Hanna, Mrs. Corwin took the part of Mrs. Wilson, Golda Airy was costumed as Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Roy Collins as Jessie Wilson, Edith Christy as Eleanor Wilson.

During this stop the national and other patriotic airs were played by the orchestra.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die.

At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well.

I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years.

Your druggist sells it. Please try it. N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women" sent in plain wrapper, no request.

HENRY PRODS "MONEY TRUST"

Charges Wall Street is Behind Currency Legislation.

ASKS FURTHER INVESTIGATION

Texas Representative Declares Pujo Committee Barely Scratched Surface of Facts Owing to Comptroller Refusing Access to Records.

Washington, June 14.—An undercurrent of opposition among a considerable number of house Democrats to the plan for currency legislation at this session of congress took definite shape when Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the rules committee, openly charged that Wall street was back of the propaganda for currency legislation. While favoring revision of both the banking and currency laws at the next session of congress, Mr. Henry insisted that further investigation of the money trust should be pressed immediately.

The Pujo committee, he declared, barely scratched the surface of the facts underlying the concentration of control of money and credit, because the comptroller of the currency refused access to his records, making it impossible for the investigators to expose complete the existing relations between the Wall street bankers and their allies "with the trusts and monopolies, stock gamblers and financial conspirators."

"Wall street bankers," he added, "now are demanding legislation on the currency question in order that they may make a market for their commercial paper (much of it based on rotten securities) and have currency issued on their assets."

REPUDIATES HER CONFESSION

Mrs. Kellar Denies She Killed Husband and Daughter.

Harrisonville, Mo., June 14.—Mrs. Ida May Kellar, who confessed in the presence of the sheriff and county prosecutor that she had killed her husband, Arthur Kellar, and her seven-year-old daughter, Margaret, Tuesday, with an axe, called Sheriff Jim Prater to her apartment in the county jail and repudiated the confession, saying that the Kansas City detective who investigated the murders, "scared it out of her."

According to Sheriff Prater, Mrs. Kellar was in a violent rage when he entered her apartment. "I know who the murderer is and he will suffer for it," she said, seizing the sheriff by the coat.

She then named a section laborer employed by the railroad here as the man.

MOROS ARE REPULSED

Attempt to Rush American Lines With Bolos—Fighting Continues.

Manila, June 14.—Fierce fighting continues between the American forces under Brigadier General Pershing and the rebellious Moros at Bagasak.

The Moros still hold one fort. Their attempts to rush the American lines with bolos, which are made with fanatical gallantry, have been repulsed with heavy losses. The Americans will attack in strength today and their success seems certain.

The latest casualties are one scout killed and one man of the hospital corps wounded.

WOMAN HELD UP BY BANDIT DOWNTOWN AT NOON.

New York, June 14.—Miss Dorothy Daniels, a frail little woman of twenty-two, was beaten, choked and robbed in the streets by a lone bandit, who had followed her from the bank to her place of employment on Varick street.

The highwayman escaped with $1,128 in currency and certified checks. The holdup occurred in a busy downtown section in full view of the noonday crowds.

Jap Premier Talks to Journalists.

Tokyo, June 14.—Count Yumamoto, the premier, addressing a gathering of journalists on foreign policies, said that he deeply regretted that the controversy over the question of the California alien land ownership legislation was still unsettled. He added that with due regard to the importance of maintaining peace and friendship between the United States and Japan, the government was taking appropriate steps and, knowing the high sense of justice and humanity of the American nation, it looked confidently for an amicable settlement.

RITSON'S FIRST GOAL

Captain of British Polo Team In Sensational Play During the Second Period.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Although the Englishmen were beaten by the Americans in the first contest for the international challenge trophy at Meadowbrook, N. Y., they made a plucky fight. One of the most striking plays was that shown in the picture when Captain Ritson drove the ball down the field for the first goal scored by his team. About 30,000 people saw the game.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH TEAMS MEET IN POLO

Loss of Monte Waterbury Weakens Defending Four.

New York, June 14.—Despite the rather easy victory of the United States team in the opening game of the international polo series, a close contest is predicted in the second game with the English cup challengers at the Meadowbrook club field this afternoon. Various factors contribute to this impression, including the loss of "Monte" Waterbury at No. 2 on the defending four. While Louis E. Stoddard, who has been named to play in his place, is rated but two goals below Waterbury in the polo association ranking, it is thought that the breaking up of the "Big Four" combination play will result from the general change in the lineup.

According to Sheriff Prater, Mrs. Kellar was in a violent rage when he entered her apartment.

"I know who the murderer is and he will suffer for it," she said, seizing the sheriff by the coat.

She then named a section laborer employed by the railroad here as the man.

SWEEPING LOBBY PROBE IS LIKELY

Further Broadening of Scope of Inquiry Considered.

TIME LIMIT MAY BE EXTENDED

Committee in Executive Session Decides to Put Question Up to Senate. Palmer Tells of Moulding Public Opinions Through Newspaper.

Washington, June 14.—Lobbying as a fine art, how it is done, and who is responsible what ends are sought and what results are accomplished, probably will be investigated by the special senate lobby committee before it concludes its work and submits a report to the senate. For nearly two weeks the five senators on the committee have listened to testimony that has dealt almost exclusively with the influence exerted on the tariff bill, but it has uncovered enough trails to lead members to believe that campaigns of every sort, political, industrial and economic, have been conducted much along the same lines through paid agents in efforts to create public sentiment favorable to the causes concerned.

The committee decided in executive session to submit to the senate the question of a further broadening of the scope of its inquiry.

May Extend Time Limit.

It was believed that the time limit of twenty days imposed on the committee would be extended and that the investigation would go into every possible phase of what the committee suspects is lobbying. Any skeletons that have dangled in the closets of congress and any soiled linen that may have hung there will be exhibited to the public eye and legislation to impose drastic restrictions upon lobbying and the "acceleration" of public opinion may result.

The committee's decision came at the end of a day filled with sensations. On two occasions President Wilson figured in the testimony. Senator Gallinger told the committee that in his opinion the president had once come at least "dangerously near lobbying," and Truman G. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States beet sugar industry, declared that a "plate matter" campaign, much similar to the one conducted in newspapers by him, had accompanied the campaigns of the president and Representative Underwood before the Baltimore convention.

Senator Cummins cross-examined Mr. Palmer at length about the details of his newspaper campaign and developed that to the best knowledge of the witness many of the big interests of the country were engaged in similar efforts to mould the opinion of the country.

The technical charge against the men was blocking a side walk.

FINDS SHIPPING TRUST DOES EXIST

Coastwise Lines Eliminate Competition by Understandings.

Washington, June 14.—Chairman Alexander of the house ship trust investigating committee, making public the first three volumes of the committee's proceedings, declared they contained evidence that competition between coastwise liners had practically been eliminated and that all established lines from American ports were in "agreements."

"In the domestic trade," said Mr. Alexander, "agreements between ship lines to regulate competition don't play nearly so prominent a part as in the foreign trade. But numerous methods may be used to accomplish the same purpose and the committee is aware of at least thirty which have been, or are being used, to control competition between water carriers in the domestic trade."

"In the trade with foreign ports, the committee found at least seventy-six agreements or understandings, the purpose of which was to fix and maintain rates, regulate the traffic and in many instances pool the business. These agreements govern nearly all the regular lines operating in various branches of the American foreign trade to Europe, Africa, South America and the Caribbean district. Practically all the lines serving both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard of the United States are members of conferences or work in co-operation through written agreements or oral understandings."
